CORPORATE PARTNER OF THE YEAR

Post Consumer Brands' Tremonton plant opened its doors in 2003, and since then, it has been an integral part of our community. Shortly after the plant's opening, Mark Suchan joined the board at United Way and began exploring ways to give back to our community.

They learned of a tradition that started at the Minnesota plant, where cereal was sold at a super low price, and all the proceeds went to United Way. Utah's Tremonton plant became the second plant to adopt this tradition. Last year, our local cereal sale raised $10,000 more than the previous year!

Over the years, Post Consumer Brands has donated over $1M to our community through employee giving and the annual cereal sale, a testament to their unwavering commitment.

As Mark said, "Community is everything." Post's dedication to fortifying our community is evident not only through the provision of healthy and convenient breakfast options but also through their remarkable contributions to Northern Utah.

A heartfelt thank you to Post Consumer Brands for their invaluable support and enduring impact on our community.
